It was a dreary October day. Nick and Kylee began their long walk home from school. Nick had an idea and said to Kylee, "Let's take a short cut through the cemetery." Kylee said in a scared voice, "Sure." So, they turned into the cemetery.

The cemetery looked like a death trap. Kylee said, "Nick, I'm scared." She thought she heard some screaming sounds. Then Kylee saw something out of the corner of her eye. There were vampires, ghosts, and zombies coming out of the graves. They were so scared they ran into a tree. Then they ran back and forth. Kylee tripped over a rock.

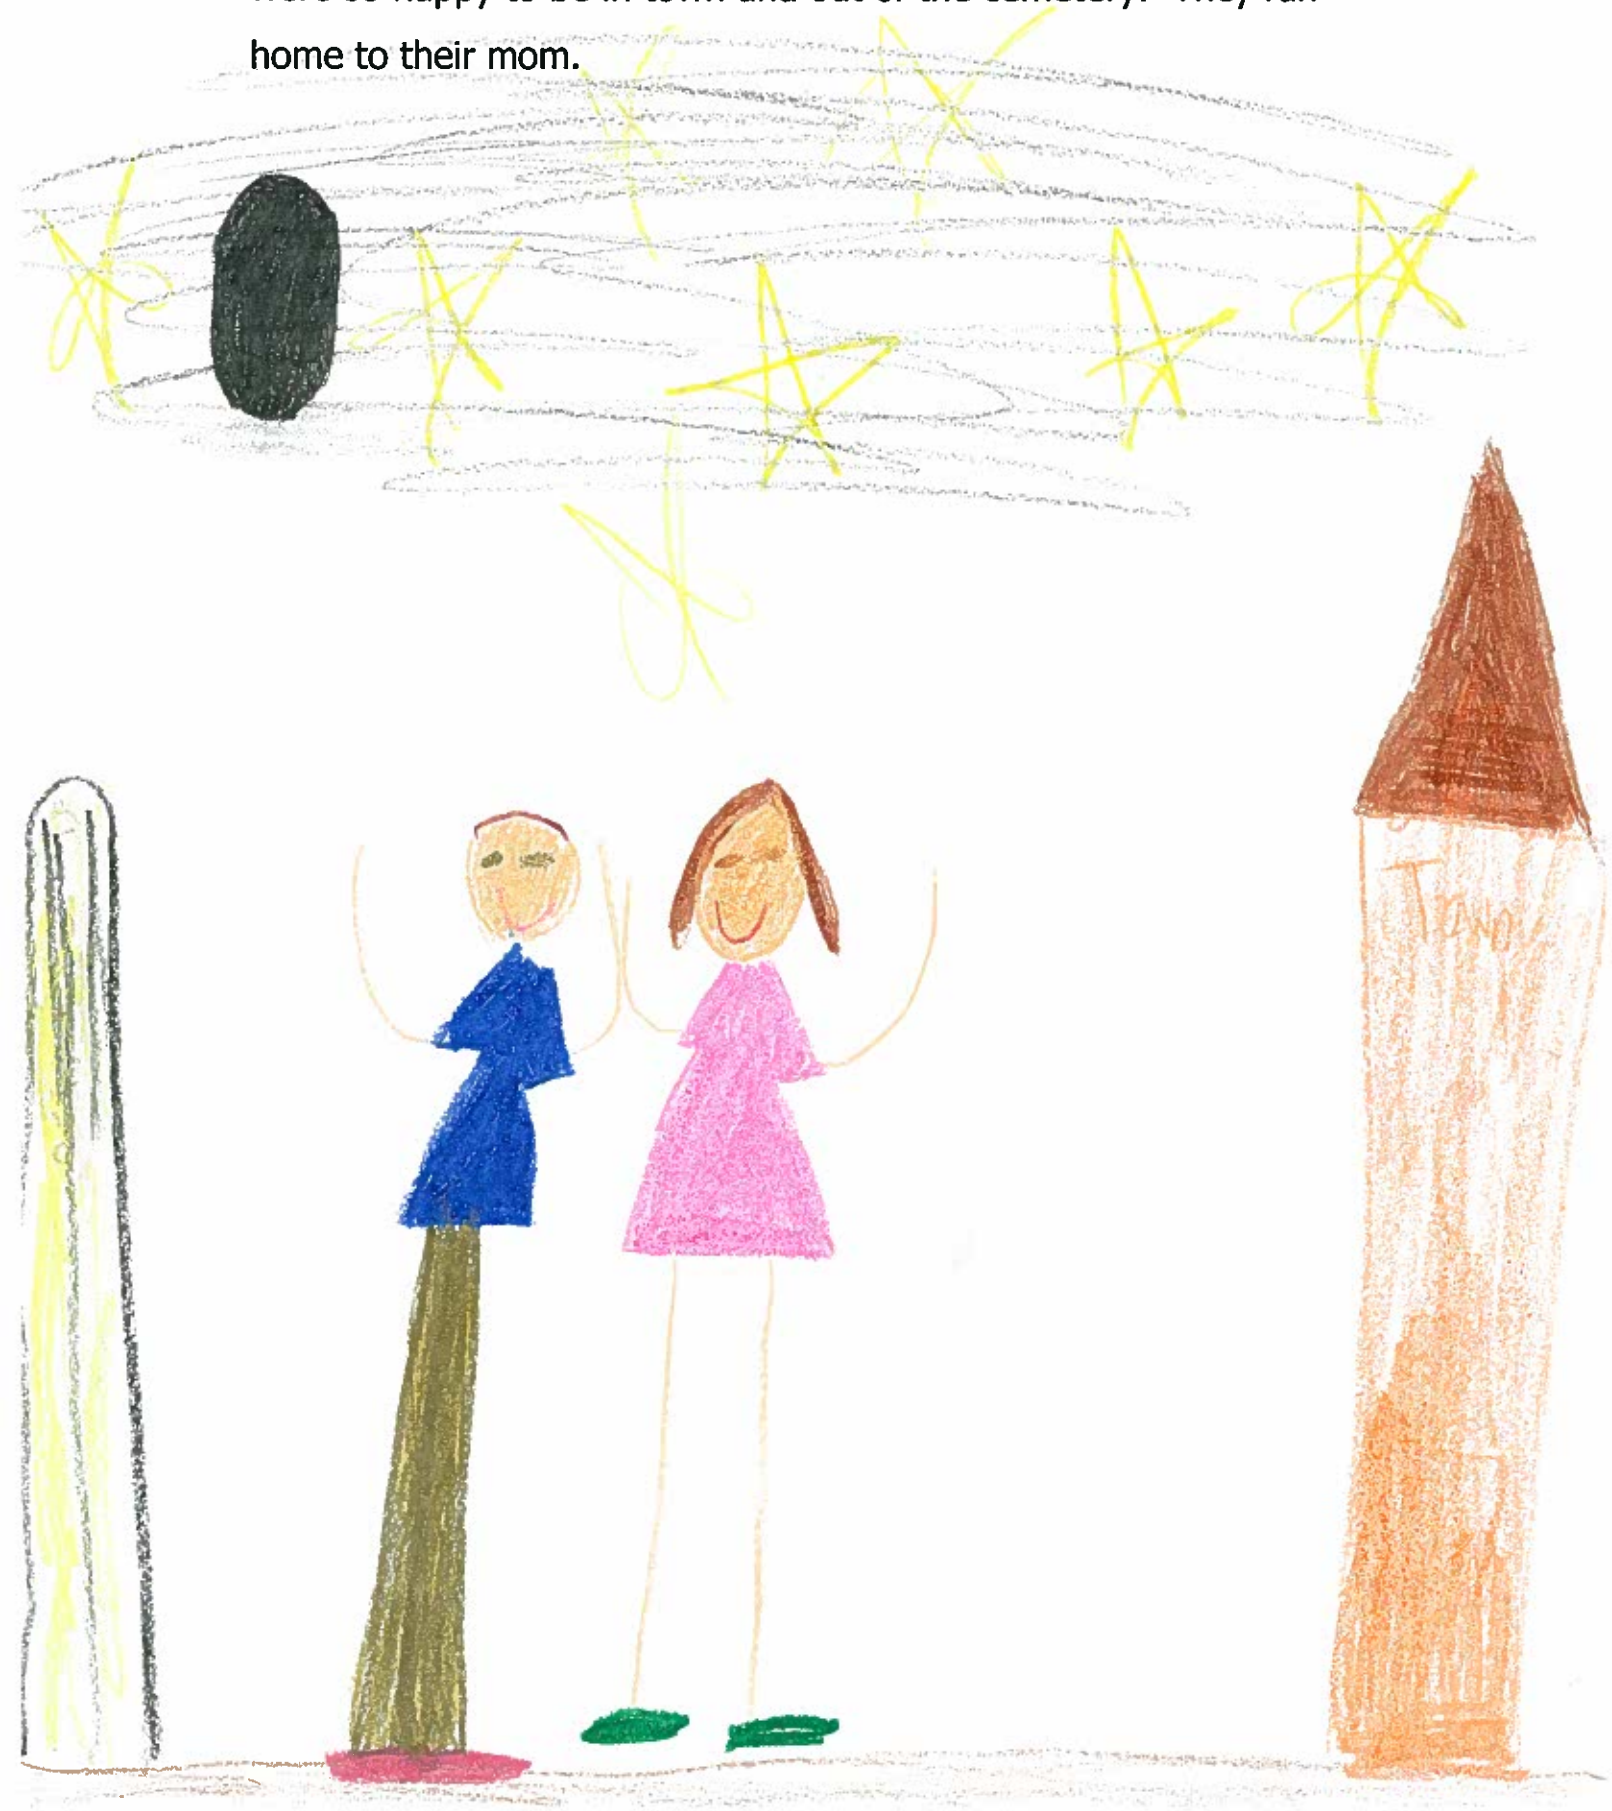

Nick had an idea. "My iPod!" He quickly turned on "The Monster Mash" and all of a sudden, the vampires, ghosts, and zombies started to dance. Kylee and Nick thought it was so funny. They knew the song would distract them because who doesn't like "The Monster Mash".

As the monsters were dancing, Nick and Kylee ran for their lives, but they ran in separate places and couldn't find a way out. But Kylee found a light at the end of the cemetery. "Nick!" said Kylee, "I think I found a way out!"

So, they ran to the light and they were in the town. They were so happy to be in town and out of the cemetery. They ran home to their mom.

Their mom was so excited to see them. She said, "Where were you guys? I was worried you got lost." They told her the truth and their mom said, "Don't ever go back there again!" Whenever they go by the cemetery they never go in it again. But, they do wonder if the vampires, ghosts, and zombies went into the graves.
